

Surviving Microsoft License Verifications

PARTNER UPDATE – June 16th, 2020

Dear reader,

Many of our clients have discovered the convenience and cost savings of Microsoft Volume Licensing.

However, volume licensing also requires periodic Microsoft License Compliance Verification, which can seem like a stressful process if you've never performed one before.

Our Microsoft team understands the complex rules surrounding Microsoft volume licensing, including such arcane concepts as "server cores" and "SQL instances." We can assist you in filling out both the initial license verification spreadsheet as well as guiding you through the process if your company is selected for a full-on license audit.

We can also help you verify if your current volume licensing matches what you're actually using, to ensure that you're compliant with "true-up" at the end of each license year.

Struggling to get a handle on exactly which Microsoft products are on your workstations and servers? We have cloud management solutions that can provide a Microsoft software audit report on-demand, within a few minutes. The same management solution also provides simplified Microsoft patching, remote control, and full software/hardware inventory.

Please let us know how we can help you with your Microsoft licensing compliance concerns.
